

City of Bloomington 2008 Mayor's Award for Excellence in Civic Engagement

Purpose: Bloomington has a tradition of volunteer and civic service. Civil servants are renewing their commitment to helping others and making greater networks that unite us as a community. The purpose of the Mayor's Award for Civic Engagement is to acknowledge Bloomington residents, who, through their commitment to service, have significantly improved civic life in Bloomington, Indiana. Through civic engagement, recipients of this award personify the notion of "public good vs. private gain." Civic engagement is defined as the following: individual and collective actions designed to identify and address issues of public concern. Civic engagement can take many forms, from individual volunteerism to organizational involvement to electoral participation. It can include efforts to directly address an issue, work with others in a community to solve a problem, or interact with the institutions of a representative democracy.
